Aetna/CVS Health Phoenix College Day

Did you know that in 2018, CVS Health bought Aetna? Now we are called Aetna, a CVS Health Company. With the actuaries from both Aetna and CVS Health coming together under the combined company, our actuarial community is now larger than ever.

Aetna/CVS Health Phoenix College Day is a half-day virtual experience for both undergraduate and graduate students. The goal of the program is to introduce top students to CVS Health and Aetna's actuarial internship and full-time programs as well as teach students about health insurance. The event also serves as an opportunity to distinguish themselves in advance of the 2025 recruiting cycle.

Aetna/CVS Health Phoenix College Day will take place on Friday, April 12, 2024

What to Expect

- To learn about the role of healthcare actuaries and hear from the perspectives and experiences of actuaries in the field, ranging from new hires to senior leaders
- To have the opportunity to hear about everything from about our company to day-to-day work to career development
- To work in small groups to complete a case study on an actuarial healthcare topic
- To listen to an introduction to Aetna's actuarial internship and full-time programs
- To network amongst your peers and Aetna actuaries
